

PROGRESSIVE
PHILOSOPHY
& PEDAGOGY

A BLOG FOR PROGRESSIVE EDUCATORS

PROGRESSIVE PHILOSOPHY AND PEDAGOGY: A BLOG FOR PROGRESSIVE EDUCATORS

Progressive Philosophy and Pedagogy: A Blog for Progressive Educators is an online forum for sharing about teaching and education issues, especially as they relate to progressive education philosophy and pedagogy. In general, a blog post should be about 500 words or less and be conversational in tone. The best blog posts offer insights or describe practices that help other teachers. Suggested areas of focus are:

- Contemporary Reflections on Progressive Philosophy and Education
- Social Justice: From Theory to Practice
- Strategies for Fostering a Democratic School Culture & Community
- Insights on Early Childhood, Child Development, & Preserving Childhood
- Examples of Inquiry-Based, Interdisciplinary, Integrated, and Concept-Based Approaches to Teaching and Learning
- Progressive Practices in the Arts, Music, Physical World Lab, World Language, Digital Literacy, and Physical Education
- Multi-Age and Teaming Classroom Structures
- Progressive Approaches to Parent and Community Engagement

If you are interested in writing a Progressive Philosophy and Pedagogy blog, posts should be sent to amakaiau@hanahauoli.org. Please put "Progressive Philosophy and Pedagogy blog post submission" in the subject line. Include your name, your title, and a three-sentence bio. Also, please suggest a headline.

BE A CONTRIBUTOR!

amakaiau@hanahauoli.org

The Hanahau'oli School Professional Development Center

1922 Makiki Street · Honolulu, HI 96822

p: (808) 949-646 · f: (808) 941-2216 · www.hanahauoli.org/pdc · pdc@hanahauoli.org